Speaker Carol Fox, MD : Excelsa Health

Carol came to Latrobe Hospital in 1986 as a medical student to do a third year rotation at the Latrobe Family Health Center. Upon medical school graduation, I started my residency at Latrobe and completed it in 1990 after one year as chief resident. After residency, I joined the faculty and have staffed at one time or another, each of our five practice sites. I was the Program Director for several years before becoming a member of the medical administrative staff for Excelsa Health. Currently, I serve in the role of Associate Chief Medical Officer and Director of Medical Education for the health system. I continue as a faculty member precepting residents in the inpatient setting. I have three children ages 20, 17, and 14 and am active in my church as well as booster activities for Greater Latrobe School District athletic programs. My husband, Jim, is a local attorney."

Our meeting ended in the usual way with the Four Way Test.
