TODAY'S PROGRAM:

Our speaker today was Kristin Mallory. She is the newest President of Westmoreland County Community College. She spoke about the similarities of the mission of WCCC and Rotary. These include Integrity and Accountability, Academic and Professional Excellence, Community Engagement, Innovation and Adaptability, and Student success and support. She spoke about new academics being offered such as the LPN Program and the Nuclear Medicine tracts. Their education centers are in Youngwood, Latrobe, Murrysville, New Kensington, as well as in Fayette and Indiana Counties.

WCCC offers more than 100 programs of study. Approximately 80% of their enrollment are Westmoreland County residents. While it requires $36 million to run the college, their education gives back $370 million into the community through their graduates' incomes.
