TODAY'S PROGRAM:

Mark Spada and Lucinda Beattie presented from Western Pennsylvanians for Passenger Rail (WPPR). They gave a great presentation on the history and future of passenger rail on our side of the state. They went through the challenges of trying to increase service when a private company – Norfolk Southern – actually owns the rail line between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh. Unlike between Harrisburg and Philly where Amtrak actually owns the line and have 12 daily trains compared to our one daily train. The good news is though that a second daily train is coming between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh with thru service to New York. That is expected to happen potentially as soon as Oct. 2026. Look for an official announcement soon. Anyone who would like to sign up for WPPR's email updates, please reach out to Alec Italiano at aitaliano@greensburgpa.org – thank you!
