TODAY’S PROGRAM:

Dr. Mike Pry from UPG was our speaker today. He has been a professor at Pitt Greensburg since 2021. He spoke today about Cyber Security and how the threats are a global issue affecting governments, companies, and individuals.

Examples to be on the alert for would be Data theft, Ransomware attacks, Bot nets that are attached to webcams. These can result in loss of money, identity, memories, files and beyond.

Some techniques the scammers use are software scans, stolen passwords and fishing emails. Three things to consider when you suspect something is awry 1. Is it urgent? 2. Is it to be a secret? 3. You are to give them something of value. Always remember to stop, contact, and verify.

Businesses also get caught by email compromises. This is when a 3rd party will insert themselves into a legitimate dialog. Invoices would be a good example.

What can we do to help safeguard against these attacks? Use unique passwords on all accounts, use multi-factor authentication, update your software, backups, and train your team (if owner/manager)

Kayla Tamer was inducted into membership by Chris DeDiana, her sponsor was Kara Gardner.
